Dear Sirs,

Being aware of the company's annual spend on waste collections and looking at the rising costs and our expansion programme we decided, like most cost conscientious companies, to look at ways of reducing the overheads and recycle as much of our waste as possible.

Having spoken to several 'Waste Management' companies and looking at the products they had on offer we had not found anyone we felt suitable.

I am a big believer in 'First Impressions' and having met James McNulty was impressed by his knowledge of the problems and his positive and professional approach to finding solutions.

James spoke in a language I understood and after having a meeting with our Commercial Director it was decided to trial Environmental Waste Systems Ltd.

The 'Roll Out' programme has been substantial with several 'Firsts' on both sides and on every move 'Environmental Waste' have fulfilled their promises. When a problem has arisen they have done everything in their power to resolve the situation as quickly and professionally as possible.

They now undertake the servicing for our original waste compactors as well as the equipment supplied by themselves.

Overall, to date, I feel this company offers the best service for the best price in the market.

Mike Benson
Head of Health and Safety and Compliance.
